Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 10,11 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cumming-6503275.

Cumming discloses a cartridge for an IOL injector including a base body 28, a case 22, a sliding element 36, a planar resting surface 42 and a guiding surface top wall of inner cavity of 22 where it meets 28. The IOL is placed on the planar surface 42 and the pusher is then used to slide the lens into the body onto the arched surface inside the body.

Claims 10,11,19 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cumming-6497708.

Cumming discloses a cartridge for an IOL injector including a base body 22, a case 18, a sliding element 36, a planar resting surface 32 or 26 and a guiding surface top wall of inner cavity of 18 where it meets 22. The IOL is placed on the planar surface 32,26 and the pusher is then used to slide the lens into the body onto the arched surface inside the body.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 12-13-2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that both Cumming references fail to disclose or suggest that a sliding element slides the IOL resting on the planar resting surface into the body. Applicant states that these references disclose that the IOL is already stored in the receptacle. The examiner fails to see how this fact has any bearing whatsoever on the rejected claims. It is without dispute that the sliding elements slide the IOL into the body and against the arched surface to fold or roll the IOL. The fact that the IOL might be stored in the receptacle is irrelevant. Once placed on the planar resting surface by hand or forceps, the sliding motion of the ram (sliding element) slides the IOL along the resting surface and against the arched surface in the body to fold or roll the IOL.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-3,5-7,9,12-18,20 and 22 are allowed.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
